

MY SUBSTITUTE TEACHER IS A MAD SCIENTIST

Today we had a substitute teacher for science class, with _____ hair that _____ straight up _____ inches high. His name was Mr. _____ and he said he'd show us why science was the most _____ class. First, he used a _____ and a _____ to make a _____ of water turn _____. Then he made a _____ of the solar system using _____, _____, and _____. When the principal walked by and saw the substitute teacher using _____ to the _____ into _____, she asked him to show the class a movie about _____ instead. The next day, we had a different substitute teacher.

